Keynote Speakers

Joe Fingerhut

Joe Fingerhut speaks from the heart about issues that are real today. He has faced adversity, suffered loss, and pursued his passions despite long odds. Joe connects with audiences using humor, magic, and relevant stories of his own adventures. He has a knack for connecting each young person's heart with a powerful message of hope.

When he was 14, Joe's best friend had his life taken in a car accident. A family member trying to comfort him said, "Joe, think about all the things Mark won't have to experience in life." Even at such a young age, Joe knew that this was the wrong attitude about living. Mark's death helped Joe begin focusing on the possibilities the world had to offer rather than the limitations. A decade later, Joe had been to 30 countries on six continents and found a way to make a living by entertaining. His skills in magic, storytelling and performance paved the way for a successful career as a speaker, teacher, and a music DJ.

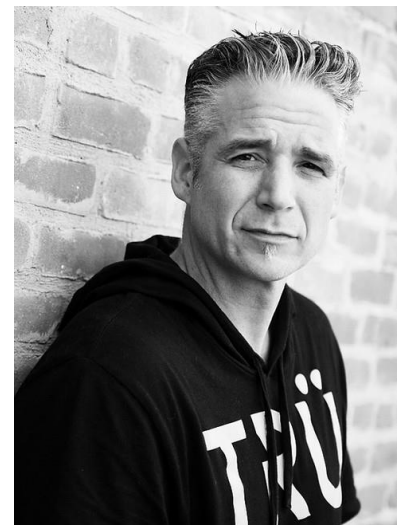

Joe focuses on conquering the "destiny of normalcy," which afflicts too many people today. He will give you a five-step method to achieve your goals and present a positive message of turning "I can't" into "How can I?" while sharing stories from his life, his travels, and showcasing his amazing skills in juggling, magic, and performing arts.

Jeremy Bates

Based on his charisma and natural sense of humor, some might say Jeremy was born to do this, but he would argue he's been building his whole life for the moments he walks into as The Hope Dealer.

Jeremy learned the importance of hope, resiliency, and humor, overcoming a dysfunctional family fueled by addiction, infidelity and abandonment. His addiction to the stage was cemented when he played his saxophone at Carnegie Hall in NYC at the age of 14.

In addition to performing, his love for inspiring people to become addicted to potential was forged as a successful high school baseball and basketball coach, where at 24-years-old; Jeremy became the youngest varsity basketball coach to ever win the Los Padres League Coach of the Year award, as well the school's first LPAL league championship in 23 years. These two passions came together in his work as a Hope Dealer.
